

Who can submit an application?

Our roles are open to everyone who has an interest in working for Newcrest. We do not accept applications from recruitment agencies, search firms or external parties on behalf of candidates.

What happens after I apply for a job?

Once you apply we will send you an automated response via email, confirming receipt of your application.

The Talent Acquisition team and the relevant hiring manager responsible for the role will review your application and advise you if your application is to be progressed in the selection process. If your application is not successful, we advise you and retain your details on our database.

Can I fax or mail my application to you?

Applications must be made online so that your application is electronically stored and tracked in our resume database. This will enable our Talent Acquisition team to review your application against any relevant opportunities.

How often are new roles advertised on your website?

We post new roles to our careers page on a regular basis. We would recommend that you visit our Careers site regularly and search for current vacancies. You can also subscribe to our Job Alerts which will automatically send you future roles that match your preferences. You can also follow us on social media.

How long is a position advertised for?

Some roles are open for a period of one to two weeks; others will remain open until the position has been filled.

Can I apply for an overseas role?

Newcrest offers career opportunities across our portfolio of international sites. If you have the required skills and experience for the position, we suggest you make an application.

Can I apply for more than one role at a time?

Of course. You are welcome to apply for any of our roles that you believe match your experience and interests.

What if I can't find a suitable job when I am searching the current vacancies?

Register your details for Job Alerts. Job Alerts are an automated email, advising you that a role has been advertised that matches your search criteria.

How do I reset my username or password?

If you forget your password you will have to click on the "Forgotten your Password?" link. You will then be presented with your secret question which you must answer correctly to have your password sent to your email address.
